Mahendra's Shah's month of November creations.

There are benefits in both education and illiteracy! My uncle was educated, so he got the opportunity to migrate to America and got a green card with professional job. He later filed for us. With no education, we didn't have many choices — just dreams! Started with low-paying jobs, slowly got into business, and now we own a couple of gas stations, motels, and this million-dollar house! Yes, my uncle is still working nine to five job!
